FACTS ABOUT ARUBA

Aruba is the most western of the Netherlands Leeward islands or ABC islands, (Aruba, Bonaire, Curacao); it is intersected by the 70th meridian and situated between 12° 24' and 12° 27' North latitude. The total length of the island is 19.6 miles while the widest cross-section is scarcely 6 miles. The total area is 69 square miles. The shortest distance between Aruba and Curacao is 42 sea-miles and between Aruba and Cape San Roman, on the peninsula of Paraguaná, Venezuela, 15 seamiles.

HISTORICAL

Already as early as 1515 a Spanish Commander, acting under approval of Diego Columbus, "took" all the viril Indians from the ABC islands and brought them to Hispaniola, the island which, today, is the territory of Haiti and Santo Domingo. The Spanish let them work in the mines there. Only a dozen or so years later it was Juan Ampués, who succeeded in sending back to Aruba a group of Indians from Hispaniola to tend the island, very likely for his personal benefit. A decree was promulgated, approved by Charles V. which forbade settlement of any foreign colonist in Aruba. This decree stayed valid for over a hundred years. The result was that the Indian population of Aruba stayed as free people, on special orders of Charles V, together with only the Spanish members of the little garrison. Later the Dutch maintained the closed area principle until the 19th century. The Arubans of today, therefore, are descendents of the Indians and the Spanish and the Dutch settlers.

The island was ruled by "Commandeurs" appointed in the Netherlands by the crown. Later the title was changed into "Gezaghebber" (Lt. Governor). Only in 1825, when an Aruban lad found gold in Rooi Fluit, a gully on the Northern shore, a certain interest was created for capital investments in gold mining. Under different names successive organizations applying different methods won gold on the island, but profits, if any, were meager and rare, except for the period of 1910-1913. By 1947 all interest ceased for an indefinite period.

Since the turn of the century the main source of income for Aruba (until the '30) was aloe; produced here and exported under the trade name of Curacao Aloe. The gross value of this export sometimes topped Fl. 2.000.000 a year.

Phosphate was won here too, but profits did not benefit the island. The greatest boost in economic development came by 1926, when the Arend Petroleum Mij., a subsidiary of the Royal Dutch Shell, established a refinery on the Western tip of the island. This refinery, known under the name of Eagle Refinery stopped refining in January 1953. By 1927/28 a Canadian Company got a concession on the Eastern tip of the island at San Nicolas. This company later was taken over by the Standard Oil of New Jersey, and her modest plant grew to be the biggest oil refinery of the world today, as far as output is concerned, operating under the name of: "Lago Oil & Transport Co., Ltd."

CLIMATE.

The climate is, for an island under the circumstances of Aruba, very pleasant. The heat of the sun is cooled off during almost

	Max.	Min.	Average
Temperature (Fahrenheit)	92	73	83
Humidity	80	64	73
Rainfall (annually)			17.16"
Sunratio: Over 90%.

Tradewinds blow continuously 10-11 months a year. Hottest months: Mid August - Mid October. Coolest: December, January and February.

ETHNOLOGY.

The Aruban of today is a descendant from the original indigenous Indian tribe mixed with Spanish and Dutch blood of the early colonizers. It is a strong race, preponderantly fair coloured, honest, thrifty and laborious. They number about 39482. There is a great number of people from all parts of the world here. Asiatics included.

POPULATION

Total: December 31, 1960 - 53199
Of those about 45.000 are of Dutch nationality. About 3.000 British; 1400 Americans; 600 Venezuelans, other nationalities about 2.000. There are 41 nationalities on the island.

THE LANGUAGE.

The native language is Papiamentu, a mixture of Spanish, English, Portuguese, Dutch, Indian and a sprinkling of African words. The official language is Dutch, the trade languages are mostly English and Spanish.

GOVERNMENT.

With the promulgation of the new constitution on December 29, 1954, the Netherlands Antilles voluntarily became an integral part of the Netherlands Kingdom. Aruba, then, has an island Government for its own sake to deal with all internal affairs on a basis of autonomy like the other five islands that form the Netherlands Antilles.

Aruba has an Island Council having 21 members, elected every four years through general elections. There is universal suffrage for adults over 23 years of age having Netherlands nationality. Authority in local affairs is vested in the Island Council.

The Island Council nominates four members to the five-man Executive Council, the fifth member being the Lt. Governor, who is appointed for six years by the Crown. Each member has one vote. The Lt. Governor is a non-political person. He also is representative in the Islands administration of the Government of the Netherlands Antilles. The 6 Islands of the Netherlands Antilles form a sort of federation having a "federal" government; the «Staten», i.e. the House of Representatives. Its members are also elected in general elections held every four years in all the six islands, and a Cabinet of Ministers is appointed by the «Staten». The Governor of the Netherlands Antilles is appointed by the Crown and resides in Willemstad, Curacao.

RELIGION.

The majority of the population is Roman Catholic. The balance: Protestants, followers of several creeds. These are also: Israelites, a few Hindoos, Mohammedans and followers of Confucius.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Air traffic with the island is mainly maintained for passenger-service and airfreight of perishables (fresh vegetables fruit, and meat).

K.L.M. maintains 34 flights a week v.v. Curacao - Aruba. Daily with: Caracas, Amsterdam, New York, Bonaire, Montreal. 4 times a week with: Miami, Kingston, Maracaibo. 3 times a week with: Panama, Barranquilla, Havana, Paramaribo. Twice a week with: Port of Spain, St. Maarten, Georgetown, St. Kitts. Trans Caribbean Airways has service to Aruba from New York via San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Flights from New York to Aruba leave on Wednesday and Friday nights arriving on Aruba on the same day.

Flights from Aruba leave on Thursday and Saturdays, arriving in New York the same day, and on Sunday nights arriving in New York next day.

Delta Air Lines maintains three flights a week v.v. Aruba-New Orleans via Montego Bay, Jamaica, with thru connections from and to Caracas. Once a week there is connections to and from Havana.

VIEW BASI RUTI

The airport of Aruba is called "Beatrix Air port", it applies the hydrant filling system for airplanes. It has an ultramodern terminal, situated on the main traffic artery between Oranjestad and San Nicolas at respectively 5 and 20 minutes drive by car.

Aruba has two modern ports, namely at Paarden Baai (Oranjestad) — at ten minutes walking distance from the center of the city — for passenger ships and freighters, with a draft of 34-35'; quay length is 2700' total. The biggest ocean liners can moor there. The second port is San Nicolas harbor, specially outfitted for tankers. Tankers of the super class (40.000 tons) can moor at the new docks. They can be served in 24-30 hours. Finally there is a pier at Eagle bunker-station, where tankers of the biggest sizes can moor and be served.

Shipping companies which regularly call at Aruba (except tankers): Grace Line, K.N.S.M. (Royal Netherlands S.S. Co.); Alcoa Line, Hapag Horn Line, Moore McCormick, American Defense Line, Royal Mail Line, Blue Star Line. On the island transportation is carried out by: Buses, stationwagons, taxis, and of course by cars.

Total of motorcars, trucks included, December 31, 1959: 7824.

TOURISM.

Aruba tourist industry is still in its early stages but, in the past half score years legal links and bottlenecks impairing healthy development of tourism were removed and so Aruba has gone a long way to coming of age in this field. The island has invested great sums of public funds in development of suitable areas, such as the construction of the great Western shore boulevard connection of the sites along the beautiful Palm Beach, on the water main, with automatic telephone trunk line and electricity nets, and thus opening the possibility of capital investment for tourist-plants in that area. Last but not least the island has picked up the tag of the balance of Venezuelan, private and Government capital needed for financing the first luxury 140 rooms hotel, which has been opened on July 18th, 1959. The result is the highly successful "Aruba Caribbean Hotel Casino", one of the most talked about places in the Caribbean.

HOTELS & PENSIONS

Aruba Caribbean, Strand, Scala, Marchena, Primavera, Colombia, Basi-Ruti, Astoria, Ambassador.

ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW INDUSTRIES.

There is a tax exemption law (No. 194, 1953), which grants a 10-11 years tax exemption to new industries, hotels included. Also owners of such new businesses and hotels are exempted of paying duties on the imports of new furniture, furnishings and machinery for their establishments and also for all replacements of such goods during the first 10 years of operation; this for capital investment of at least Fls. 100.000 for industries and Fls. 500.000 for hotels.

ARUBA TRADE AND INDUSTRY ASSOCIATION

This Association was formerly called the Aruba Merchants Association. The Association is a voluntary Association, of which most local prominent businessmen, industries, distributors and agents are members. The purpose of the Association is to promote the interest of commerce in Aruba in general and of its members in particular. Its Board is elected for a one year period in a general meeting of all its members. The Association sponsors an economic monthly called the «Echo of Aruba», which is especially designed to propagate Aruba abroad as a center of Commerce and Trade, an attractive location for new industry and as a seat for investment companies. It is mailed to its subscribers for a nominal fee. Foreign companies are enabled to advertize their products in the periodical and advertising for the solicitation of distributors or agents.

MONEY MATTERS

You'll find that Dollars are easily exchanged. At most places you may even find extra, extra, extra savings. Some shops give you two guilders of value for every American Dollar. That's an extra bonanza for you, since the official rate of exchange is about 1.85 guilder for one U.S. Dollar. For Banking services see (again) our (useful) yellow pages..... And if you want a special souvenir, see that you get a handful of Antillean nickels, the square ones.

PROSPERITY.

The main (and practically only) source of income of Aruba comes from the oil industry. Crude oil is shipped in by tankers from lake Maracaibo (which is called "Lago") area. The crude oil is pumped into storage tanks on shore. The refinery processes the crude oil into a wide variety of oil products, from diesel oil to high octane gasoline. Ocean going tankers transport the products to about 50 countries on both sides of the Atlantic and countries on the Pacific coast.

NEW CHEMICAL INDUSTRY COMPLEX TO BE ESTABLISHED IN ARUBA.

Contracts have been concluded to establish on the island of Aruba, a complex of chemical industries consisting of: An ammonia plant, a sulphuric acid plant, a phosphoric acid plant, a nitric acid plant, an urea plant and a fertilizer plant.

The factories will represent a total capital investment equivalent to U.S. $25,000,000.

For the financing and operation of these enterprises, the Aruba Chemical Industries Inc. has been formed by important international industrial and financial groups.

Construction of the plants is due to start around October 1961. It is expected to employ about 2,000 persons. Construction time is estimated at three years.

WHAT TO DO AND WHERE TO FIND IT IN ARUBA

There's so much to do, when in Aruba. For businessmen and tourist alike there are the shopping centres, where treasures are found from the corners of the world at real bargain prices. There are no import duties to speak of, so that you're buying at free port prices.

On purpose we said "shopping centers". There are two. One in spic and span Oranjestad, with Nassaustraat as its main shopping avenue. Please see our ads and specified information for trustworthy shops. We visited one and all of these shops and found them all well stocked. The second Aruba shopping center is in booming oil town St. Nicolas. It has an atmosphere all its own. Its harbour is amongst the busiest in the world with giant oil tankers leaving and entering day and night.

Compared to St. Nicolas, Oranjestad is a very formal town... but in both shopping areas you'll find the same beautiful treasures, the same attractive prices and the same courteous and truly friendly service.

We hope you'll stay quite a few days here... Especially the Mrs. will love strolling along the stores... and won't easily tire... but there is more to do... There are the beaches... The finest, whitest, cleanest beaches of Palm Beach, between the Aruba Caribbean Hotel Casino and resort hotel-club Basi Ruti.

There is the Aruba Watersports Enterprise at Palm Beach where you can rent all the equipment necessary for spearfishing, skin-diving, waterski-ing, sightseeing of the coral reefs and strolling. You also get there, if you need it, instruction in waterskiing and Sailfish sailing.

The Hotel offers you one of the most exciting casinos in the world. At famous Klompenclub nightclub there are nightly shows, featuring great stars of the U.S. and international stages, t.v. and Movies.

Basi Ruti is THE place if you are bringing the kids and also for the finest Italian dishes. The Bas Ruti hotel has a fine homely atmosphere.

Speaking about hotels, The Strand Hotel between Oranjestad and the airport is a fine place to stay if you want to be near the sea and the shopping district.

It has an airconditioned and... (believe us) well stocked bar.

If you do not care for luxury, but like good service the Ambassador hotel in town caters to those travellers who are economy minded.

In St. Nicolas a popular place is the Astoria hotel. Attractive rates and very fine service. Even if you are not staying there, you should at least dine there, because of the mouthwatering real Chinese dishes, with all the original trimmings.

In Oranjestad you'll find a very exclusive restaurant in Bill Strijland's Dutch houseboat. It is the BALI FLOATING restaurant, near the schooner harbour. It features the original Indonesian "Rijsttafel" — something out of this world. About forty different dishes are served, each with a special taste.

It's spicy and rich and very extraordinary. Eat at this place, which was chosen by the Caribbean Tourist Association as "the best restaurant of the Caribbean".

When you're taking slides of the colorful market place, which is lined with schooners from many Caribbean countries, do also visit the TROCADERO bar and restaurant. A place to forget your troubles and truly enjoy yourself.

The Trocadero Restaurant is also the meeting place of Lions, Rotarians and Toastmasters, so there is a good chance you'll meet there your fellow "joiners".

Opposite the Aruba Caribbean Hotel you won't believe your eyes... Did you see, what we saw? Yes, a real, typical Dutch windmill. It's our newest restaurant.

"De Oude Molen" (The Old Windmill) The windmill was brought piece by piece from Holland and reassembled at Aruba, by a Dutch craftsman, windmill builder.

When in San Nicolas visit:

NIGHTCLUB LIDO

and

CHARLIE'S BAR

The name speaks for itself

Proprietor: CHARLIE BROWN

Phone: 5386 - 5086 - San Nicolas

The restaurant, when open, will feature typical Dutch dishes.

Of course, you'll want to see more of Aruba. And the countryside, or as we call it the "Cunucu", is really worth your while.

The sand dunes and beaches invite you for a picnic. All this can be arranged by able tour operators or the taxi drivers. You may also rent a gala fiesta jeep or other make of American car at CARRENTAL VAN GIJN.

The colors in the cunucu invite color movies or slides. The white sand, deep blue sea and little star like plants. The hills, a crystal mountain, abandoned gold mines, pelicans, iguanas and everywhere the aloe plant and two grotesque trees, the Dividivi and the Kwih.

In parts of the island you'll find giant boulders. They are a mystery, having no relation to the island's geologic structure. A double mystery, because many of them are smoothly scooped out on the leeward side, as if by giants or the rough tongues of dinosauri. On moonlit nights the landscapes among the boulders seem to belong to another planet.

Crazy mounds and caves are among Aruba's oddities. The caves, at least, are explicable, being eaten out of the rock by the sea.

Once more... there is a lot to see and do...

If you want any additional information, see the Aruba Tourist Bureau (director friendly Mr. Michael Kuiperi), or the Aruba Information Service directed by Mr. Nicolas Piña Lampe.

Businessmen can get all the information they want at the Aruba Chamber of Commerce with it's very experienced and able secretary, Mr. Benny Kuiperi. Also there is an Aruba Trade and Industry Association. Information obtainable from the secretary, Mr. Morris Serphos Jr. (Super Dry Cleaning, St. Nicolas).

And now,

HAVE A GOOD TIME, and please tell your friends about a wonderful place for relaxing, vacationing, for doing business and to invest.

ALGUNOS DATOS SOBRE ARUBA

Aruba está situada más al este de las islas neerlandesas. Tiene una longitud de 19.6 millas mientras la parte más ancha tiene apenas 6. Tiene una superficie total de 69 millas cuadradas. La distancia más corta entre Aruba y Curazao son 42 millas marítima y entre Aruba y San Román en Venezuela 15 millas.

HISTORIA.

En el año 1515 un comandante español actuando con el permiso de Diego Colon, capturó todos los indios de las islas ABC y los llevó a La Hispanola, la isla que hoy es el territorio de Haiti y Santo Domingo.

Los españoles los dejaron trabajar en las minas. Casi doce años despues Juan Ampués logró retornar un grupo de los Indios de La Hispanola hacia Aruba con el propósito de cuidar a la isla, pero mejor dicho lo hizo para su beneficio personal. Una ley fué proclamada y aprobada por Carlos V, la cual prohibió colonos extranjeros en Aruba. Esta ley quedó en vigor por mas de 100 años.

El resultado fué que los Indios quedaron libres por orden especial de Carlos V. junto con los miembros españoles de lo pequeña guarnición. Despues los holandesas mantuvieron la isla hasta el dia de hoy. Por eso los arubanos de hoy son descendientes de los colonos españoles, holandeses e Indios. La isla fué gobernados por el Gobierno holandés. Después el título fué cambiado por "Gezaghebber".

En 1825 un Arubiano encontró oro en Rooi Fluit, al norte de la costa y había entonces mucho interés en invertir dinero para la explotación. Bajo diferentes nombres muchas organizaciones usaron varios métodos para obtener oro, pero los beneficios eran pocos excepto en el período de 1910 a 1913. En 1947 ya no había ningún interés. Despues de algún tiempo el aloe fué la fuente de ingreso principal de Aruba, el cual fué producido aquí y exportado bajo el nombre de Curazao Aloe. Algunas veces los ingresos de este producto alcanzaron la suma de Fls. 2.000.000 al año.

El fosfato también fué explotado, pero ninguna importancia para la isla. La economía de Aruba tuvo gran progreso en el año 1926, cuando la Arend Petroleum Maatschappij, una compañía que sustituyó la Shell, estableció una refinería al oeste de la isla. Esta refinería, conocida bajo el nombre de Eagle Refinery, dejó de funcionar en enero de 1953. En 1927 ? hasta 1938 una compañía canadiense empezó una refinería al este de la isla, llamado San Nicolas. Esta compañía fue reemplazada después por la Standard Oil de New Jersey, la cual es hoy una de las refinerías más grandes del mundo, operando bajo el nombre de Lago Oil & Transport Co., Ltd.

CLIMA.

El clima es muy suave. El calor que produce el sol es soportable por los vientos del Noroeste, llamados 'Pasaatwinden'. Casi no hay lluvia. Los vientos soplan continuamente por 10 u 11 meses al año. Los meses más calurosos son: agosto y octubre. Los más frescos son: enero y febrero.

ETNOLOGIA.

Los arubanos de hoy son descendientes de tribus originales indias mezcladas con Españoles y Holandeses. Es una raza fuerte, de color puro. Son sinceros, ahorradores y trabajadores. Son 36.000 en total. Una gran cantidad de la población viene de todas partes del mundo, incluso de Asia.

EL IDIOMA.

El idioma nativo es Papiamento, un mezcla de Español, Portugués. Holandés y algunas palabras africanas. El idioma oficial es Holandés; el idioma comercial es Inglés y Español.

EL GOBIERNO.

entonces su propio gobierno, el cual se ocupa

Desde diciembre 29, 1954, las Antillas Holandesas forman voluntariamente una parte integral del Reino Holandés. Aruba tiene desde de los asuntos internos a base de autonomía igual que las otras islas que forman las Antillas Holandesas.

Aruba tiene un consejo de 21 miembros, elegidos cada 4 años por elecciones generales. Los adultos de más de 23 años de edad y de nacionalidad holandesa tienen derecho de votar. La autoridad de los asuntos locales reside en el Consejo. Cuatro miembros de los cinco que forman el Consejo Ejecutivo son nombrados por el Consejo, el quinto miembro es el Gobernador, quien es colocado por la Corona. Cada miembro tiene un voto. El Gobernador es una persona que no se ocupa con asuntos políticos. El es también el representante de la administración del Gobierno de las Antillas Holandesas. Las 6 islas de las Antillas Holandesas forman algo como una federación, teniendo un gobierno "federal", el "Staten", o sea la Casa de los Representantes. Sus miembros también son elegidos por elecciones generales efectuadas cada 4 años en todas las islas y un Gabinete de Ministros colocados por el "Staten". El Gobernador de las Antillas Holandesas es nombrado por La Corona y reside en Willemstad, Curazao.

RELIGION.

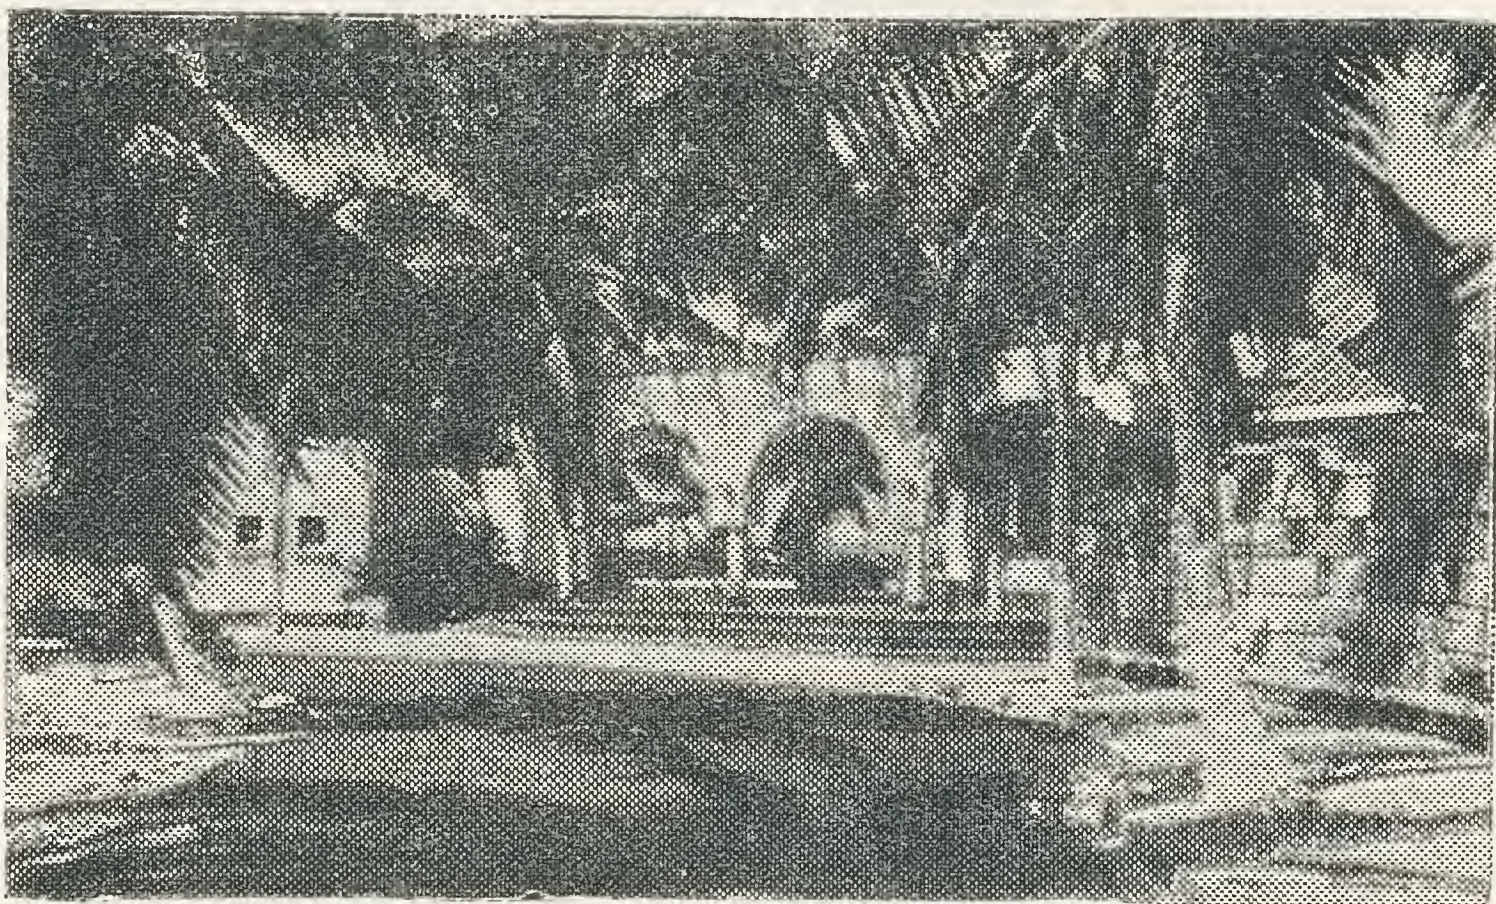

La mayor parte de la población es Católica Romana. También hay protestantes, Israelitas, algunos Hindues, Mahometanos y seguidores de Confucio.

COMUNICACIONES.

El tráfico aéreo con la isla es principalmente sostenido por la K.L.M. Hay muchos "charter-flights", especialmente para el transporte aéreo de comestibles, legumbres frescas, frutas y carnes. La K.L.M. sostiene 34 vuelos por semana v.v. Curacao-Aruba. Vuelos diarios con Caracas, Amsterdam, New York, Bonaire, Montreal. 4 veces por semana con Miami, Kingston, Maracaibo. 3 veces por se-do en Paarden Baai, Oranjestad, a pie son 10 minutos desde el centro de la ciudad. Se usa para vapores y buques de carga, con un calado de 34'-36, con una longitud de 2700'. Los vapores más grandes pueden anclar allí. El otro puerto está situado en San Nicolás, especialmente equipado para buques petroleros. Buques petroleros de primera calidad (40.000 toneladas) pueden anclar en los diques nuevos. También hay un muelle en la estación carbonera de Eagle donde buques petroleros de tamaño sumamente grandes pueden anclar y ser servidos.

Compañías de navegación que tocan Aruba además de buques petroleros: Grace Line, K.N.S.M., Alcoa, Hapag (Horn Line), Moore McCormack, Three Bays Line. La transportación en la isla: Buses Stationwagons, Taxis y

El aeropuerto de Aruba se llama "Beatrix Airport". Es ultramoderno, situado en el camino principal entre Oranjestad y San Nicolás, respectivamente 5 y 20 minutos por carro.

Aruba tiene dos puertos modernos, uno situanaturalmente, carros privados. Los caminos son relativamente largos. Caminos asfaltados de primera y segunda clase tienen un total de 100 millas; caminos de recebo, mas o menos 90 millas.

TURISMO.

La industria turística de Aruba está en su etapa inicial, pero en los últimos años muchos obstáculos han sido vencidos y así Aruba ha tenido mucho progreso en esta clase de industria. El público ha invertido gran

PROSPERIDAD.

La fuente principal de ingresos es la industria petrolera. Casi se puede decir que es la única. El petróleo crudo viene del Lago de Maracaibo. y despues lo almacenan en tanques. La refinería se ocupa de refinar este petróleo y así se obtiene una gran variedad de sub-productos. Los buques petroleros transportan los productos a 50 países a ambos lados del Atlántico y también a países en la costa Pacífica.

COMERCIO.

La mayoría de los artículos importados vie-nen de los Estados Unidos. Se importa también algunos artículos europeos. La exportación consiste de artículos importados anteriormente. Son artículos comprados por turistas, tripulantes de buques, etc. También hay una exportación de artículos en la misma Caribia para Europa para aquellos que tienen familia en esos países.

HIGIENE.

Enfermedades del trópico casi no hay en esta isla. Malaria y fiebre amarilla son desconocidas.

AGRICULTURA.

Aruba se limita principalmente a cultivar maíz. Lo llaman "Maishi Rabo", la harina se usa para hacer una especie de papilla y también pancake o "Pan Bati". Sin embargo el "funchi", otro plato nacional preparado con harina de grano grueso importada, es predominante. Otra planta que es abundante en partes secas es el ALOE. Una planta hidrofónica de 24 hectáreas, la única en el mundo que usa agua de mar a base comercial, está funcionando ahora.

GANADO.

Hay ovejas y una abundancia de cabras, las cuales se encuentran por todas partes de la isla.

SHOPPING FIESTA

Ambas ciudades, Oranjestad, la capital de Aruba, y San Nicolas, el extremo opuesto de la isla, forman una tentación para el turista con sus grandes variedades de mercancías procedentes de todos los continentes, exhibidas en antiguos bazares o en pulcros y modernos almacenes. Allí se encuentran relojes suizos, perfumes franceses de las marcas más famosas, porcelana azul de Delft y obras de plata de Holanda, bordados de Madeira, "souvenirs" de la China y de la India, licores y bebidas alcohólicas de las más afamadas hasta las más singulares... y sin embargo a precios tan bajos que muchas veces no llegan ni a la mitad de lo que se pagaría en los Estados Unidos. La causa de ello está en que los derechos de importación son extremadamente bajos y aún hay artículos que no pagan ninguna clase de derecho; además, los comerciantes saben como reducir los gastos generales y no se cobran impuestos de venta o de lujo.

LA COSTA OCCIDENTAL DE ARUBA

con su limpia y suave Palm Beach y su aún más esplendorosa Eagle Beach y sus encantadores parajes con exóticos nombres como Basiruti, Arasji y Malmok, es uno de los sitios más hermosos y estupendos, donde el baño de mar es un placer factible durante todo el año. En diferentes partes están separadas las playas por peñones de rocas de coral, que ascienden a veces hasta diez pies sobre la superficie del mar y que forman excelentes sitios para la pesca o la contemplación de las maravillas de la vida submarina.

LA PALM BEACH DE ARUBA

es sin duda una de las playas más hermosas del Caribe. Una extensión de tres millas de blanquísima arena bañada por un mar verde-azul de increíbles matices y tan limpia y transparente que permite ver los objetos en el fondo. Los botes provistos de fondos de vidrio proporcionan un emocionante espectáculo: helechos marinos de brillantes colores, arrecifes de coral y multitud de peces en movimiento.

El declive gradual de la playa no solamente hace la natación completamente segura, sino que también los que no saben nadar pueden gozar de un delicioso baño. La temperatura del agua es agradable a través de todo el año: 26 — 28° C.

EL «CUNUCU»

está salpicada de pulquérrimas casitas de variados colores, curiosas aldeas como Santa Cruz en el centro de la isla y Savaneta en la costa del Sur, cerca de San Nicolás. La extensa y magnífica red de carreteras da acceso al más lejano rincón de la isla.

Además de las ciudades y pueblos y los paisajes pintorescos, el visitante debiera ver los gigantescos y típicos monolitos, los más importantes de los cuales se encuentran en Ayó. Son éstos una especie de sólidos guijarros de diorita, que pesan cada uno varios miles de toneladas y que parecen haber sido arrojados allí juntos al capricho de la naturaleza. Otro paraje fotogénico es la colina de Canashito, donde se encuentran singulares formaciones rocosas, que albergan grandes bandadas de pericos de color verde subido. Hay asimismo varias grutas, de las cuales la más interesante es la Cueva de Cuadirikiri. A los interesados en la cultura india les llamarán mucho la atención las murallas y techos de esas grutas, en que se encuentran tantos petrógrafos cuyo significado no ha sido esclarecido todavía.

EL NUEVO ARUBA CARIBBEAN HOTEL Y CASINO

El hotel-casino más lujoso y refinado del Caribe, en operación durante todas las estaciones del año, situado directamente en la gloriosa y espléndida playa de Palm Beach, completamente aire acondicionado... con facilidades para cenar y bailar, tanto de puertas adentro como al aire libre... casino... golf... tenis... deportes acuáticos... piscina a corta distancia del centro comercial (puerto libre).

Construido tal como es a la orilla del mar en la Palm Beach, indudablemente cuenta con una de las más perfectas playas naturales conocidas en el mundo.

Esta nueva sensación en el Caribe tiene 120 cuartos dobles y seis habitaciones (suites) cada cual con un balcón que da al mar.

Ud. quedará fascinado con la indescriptible excitación del casino de juegos, completamente nuevo y diferente.

LA ISLA Y SU POBLACION

Aruba es la más occidental de las islas holandesas de Sotavento o sea las islas ABC (Aruba, Bonaire, Curazao) y está situada a 15 millas de la costa de Venezuela (Cabo San Romón). Tiene 33 km. de largo y 11 km. de ancho con una superficie de 179 km. cuadra-dos Tiene 58.000 habitantes (1958), de los cuales unos 34.000 son Arubanos, descendientes de los Indios que originalmente poblaron la isla y de los Españoles y Holandeses que se establecieron después. El resto de la población ha venido de Holanda, la Guayana Holandesa (Surinam), Curazao, Bonaire y las Islas Holandesas de Barlovento, todos ellos de nacionalidad holandesa. Hay además 15.000 habitantes pertenecientes a 40 diferentes nacionalidades. Los arubanos gozan de uno de los niveles de vida más altos del mundo. El gobierno no solamente es estable en lo político, sino que tampoco ha de amortizar deuda alguna. Tan próspera situación ha puesto a Aruba en condiciones de arrostrar varios proyectos de obras públicas, incluyendo la erección de una fábrica nueva para destilar agua de mar, la que costará 10 millones de dólares. Esta instalación produce agua potable tan pura como en cualquier otra parte... tan pura es en verdad que hasta es necesario agregarle el «gusto».

EL CLIMA

La isla tiene un clima tropical, muy ameno y muy sano. El promedio de la temperatura es de 27° centígrados. Los meses más fríos son enero y febrero y los más calurosos agosto y septiembre. La lluvia es escasa y rara vez más de 500 mm. por año. Los meses más lluviosos son generalmente noviembre y diciembre. Las lluvias, sin embargo, son la mayoría de las veces de corta duración y casi siempre hace sol, aún durante los meses más lluviosos. Otra ventaja la constiuyen los vientos alisios que soplan del este o del nordeste y hacen que uno sienta más fresco del que indica el termómetro. Aruba está completamente fuera de la zona de huracanes.

SLIM

thin

elegant

A true jeweler's watch a man can be proud to own.

An extraordinary timekeeper, incredibly thin, wonderfully elegant, with a shock-resistant 21 jewel movement. Enhanced by a fine black lizard strap, it is presented in an attractive box.

SWIMMING IN THE CARIBBEAN SEA

The Islands of the Netherlands Antilles

The Netherlands Antilles are composed of six islands. Near the coast of Venezuela are Curaçao, Aruba and Bonaire. The Windward islands, St. Martin, Saba and Sta Eustatius, are up North, West of Antigua and East of the Virgin Islands.

Strange thing indeed, that the Netherlands Antilles call the northern islands "Windward", while the British call their islandgroup in the north of the Caribbean "Leeward". For the southern islands goes the same. Aruba, Curaçao and Bonaire Leeward and the British call their southern islands "Windward". Easy as....., ABC.

All six islands have an ideal climate, all are awakening fast to the tourist "industry".

Curaçao is about 172 square miles and has a population of approximately 125.000

Aruba is 70 square miles with a population of 54.000.

Bonaire is 112 square miles, 6000 population.

BONAIRE has a tourist office near the Hotel Curaçao, at Plaza Piar. Any information on this nearby island is available there. Also a handy Trade and Tourist guide, free on request.

St. Martin, divided in a Neth. Ant. and a French part, is 31 square miles (14 Neth. Ant. and 17 French). The population is 1500 on the Ant. side and 5000 on the French side. Ask for our guide.

Saba is 5 square miles and has a population of 1150.

St. Eustatius is 12 square miles and has about 1000 population.

On the islands Dutch, Papiamentoe, English and Spanish is spoken.

On the coast of South America there is another part of the (united) Kingdom of the Netherlands. It's Suriname. It covers 55.500 square miles and has a population of 250.000.
